Call for Papers

The Vietnamese Association For Computing, Engineering Technology and Science (VACETS) is organizing the Sixth Technical International Conference (VTIC'05) at the Crowne Plaza Hotel in Milpitas (Silicon Valley), California, USA, on June 4, 2005.

The theme of this conference is "Opportunities in Multi-Disciplinary Science and Technology." This conference is the largest gathering of Vietnamese-American engineers, scientists, and professionals for the purpose of exchanging ideas, fostering friendships, and developing business partnerships. The daylong event will consist of technical sessions, exhibits, workshops, a poster session, and culminate in a banquet with traditional entertainment. Our focus this year will be on students and young professionals who are looking to expand their knowledge, explore career paths, and interact with scientists and engineers in the prime of their careers.

The organizing committee accepts submissions from most scientific, technical, and social science disciplines. Oral and poster presentations are planned in biomedical technologies, computer sciences, energy, environmental and social sciences, microelectronics, and telecommunications. The committee strongly encourages general-topic papers that would be of interest to a wide variety of disciplines. Panel discussions on current issues are being organized. Speakers from academia, industry, and government are also invited.

Schedule

- December 15, 2004 - Call for Papers
- March 15, 2005 - Abstracts Due
- April 15, 2005 - Papers Due
- May 15, 2005 - Program Announcement
- June 4, 2005 - Conference

Please send inquiries to tran4@llnl.gov

General Information

Milpitas is located in the heart of Silicon Valley, the epicenter of innovation and the home to high-tech powerhouses, such as Intel, Hewlett Packard, Cisco Systems, Netscape, IBM, and Oracle. It is adjacent to the twelfth largest metropolitan area in the United States. San Jose and the Bay Area have the second largest Vietnamese-American community in the United States, with a large pool of scientists, engineers, and professionals. The San Jose/San Francisco Bay Area is also home to many renowned Universities and laboratories, such as UC Berkeley, Stanford, San Jose State, and the Lawrence Livermore and Lawrence Berkeley National Laboratories.
